What are the places of interest?

Corbett Waterfall

Waterfall inside reserve forest area, ideal for picnic.

Garjia Temple

14 kms. from Ramnagar, on the way to Ranikhet, is a huge rock in the midst of river Kosi. This place has been named Garjia Devi after the deity. The temple is visited by thousands of devotees from different parts of the state. A large fair is held here on kartik Poonnima. Ramnagar is the last bus terminus, from where Garjia Devi Temple is 14 kms. This temple is situated between two branches of the river, which has to be approached by foot.

Corbett Museum

Located at Kaladungi, Corbett Museum was once the winter home of Jim Corbett. For Corbett Lovers, the cases where his rifles were kept, crockery that he used and his hat and a fishing net, are memories that are deeply moving and evocative.

Dhikala Machaan

Dhikala Machaan is the most well known of the popular tourist destinations in Corbett. It is located at the edge of the broad Patli Dun valley through which the Ramganga flows in numerous channels. It offers an awesome uninterrupted panoramic view of the valley, with the Kanda ridge in the backdrop. This sight appears all the more imposing from the watchtower near Dhikala. The Tourist Complex overlooks Dhikala chaur (one of the largest remaining grasslands of the Park) and Phulai chaur. A drive through the numerous trails through chaur is rewarded with sightings of wild elephants, chital, hog deer and numerous grassland bird species and raptors. The old rest house at Dhikala Machaan is a historic structure having been built over a hundred years ago.

National Tiger Reserve Park

The Corbett Tiger Reserve has a great variety of fauna on account of habitat diversity. It is very rich in avifauna. Zoological Survey of India has recorded over 585 species of resident and migratory birds here.
